He Is Just the Same Today

No matter how the storms may rage
 Upon the sea of life,
 No matter how the waves may beat,
 No matter what the strife,
 The Lord is just the same today
 As when He walked the sea;
 And He can conquer every storm
 That life may send to thee.

The waves are raging everywhere
 And men are sore distressed,
 But all they need is found in Him
 Who giveth perfect rest.
 So cast your care upon the Lord,
 Whose strength will never fail.
 He calms the waves for your frail bark;
 His power will e'er prevail.

In Days Gone By

On Sept. 29, 1959, President Eisenhower invited Kruschey to attend church with him at the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church. He refused but Eisenhower went without him.

I Am Not Old!

I am not old, though folks may say
 That I am aging every day;
 Though I am weak at times, I know
 That in my weakness I can go
 To Christ who strengthens me;
 and so
 I am not old.

I am not old; though sight grows dim
 I still can feel the hand of Him
 Who leads me o'er the darkest way,
 Still guiding that I may not stray;
 So with assurance I still say:
 I am not old.

I am not old; though up in years
 Life's twilight holds for me no fears
 Because I know my destiny
 And that my Saviour waits for me,
 Renews my strength each day;
 you see,
 I am not old.

I am not old; true, this old shell
 Of mortal clay in which I dwell Shall fall when trials of earth are o'er;
 Yet I, within, shall upward soar
 And go on living evermore:
 I am not old!

"9 Ain't Dead Yet!"

My hair is white and I'm almost blind,

The days of my youth are far behind,

My neck's so stiff, can't turn my head—

Can't hear half that's being said.

My legs are wobbly, can hardly walk,

But glory be, I can surely talk!

And this is the message I want you to get:

I'm still a-kickin' and I ain't dead yet.

I've corns on my feet and ingrowing nails—

And do they hurt! Here language fails.

To tell you my troubles would take too long,

If I tried you surely would give me the gong.

I go to church and Sunday school, too,

For I love the story that is ever new.

And when I reach the end of my row,

I to my heavenly home will go.

Then, when I leave this house of clay,

If you listen closely, I'm apt to say,

"Well, folks, I've left you, but don't forget,

I've just passed on, but I ain't dead yet!"

HIS ABIDING PLACE

How far must we go to Bethlehem town?

It's here; any place where the Lord comes down

To help his people on the earth,

To honor, worship, His holy birth.

It need not be a certain season.

Our Lord comes for justified reason

To give peace on earth to some weary soul

Or help someone reach a long sought goal.

Our Lord sees the pleading of each up-turned face

And makes Christian hearts his abiding place.

Homesick for Heaven

Homesick sometimes,

Want to go home;

Aching with longing

Where'er I roam.

Weary sometimes,

Wishing to be

There in the glory

Eternally.

Coming sometime,

Great trumpet sound!

Glorious daybreak!

Joy will abound.

Trading sometime,

Body of clay

For one immortal;

Hasten blest day!

—Lillian Gubiric

CERTAIN PEOPLE ARE A JOY TO KNOW

*People who know
how to brighten a day*

*With heart-warming smiles
And with kind words they say.*

*People who know
how to gently impart*

The comfort it takes

To cheer someone's heart.

People who know

how to always come through

When there's anything

They can possibly do.

People who know

how to willingly share,

Who know how to give

And who know how to care.

Who know how to let all their warm feelings show...

Are the people that others feel lucky to know.

The Greatest Civil Rights Violation!

The greatest violation of civil rights ever known to man is the right to life which every baby is deprived of who is aborted. Every 20 seconds a baby is aborted in America, 180 are killed every hour, 4,320 are murdered every day, 129,600 are slaughtered every month and 1,576,600 every year. How can any born-again believer who knows the Bible is the Word of God, vote for any candidate who is pro-abortion! And don't be deceived—there is absolutely no difference between pro-choice and pro-abortion. They are one and the same.

To say, "I'm against killing unborn babies, but I'm for pro-choice," should insult the intelligence of every born-again Christian. That is like saying, "I'm against killing babies, but I'm for every person making his own choice as to whether or not he wants to kill babies. And if he chooses to do so, then I'm pro-choice."

I personally do not know how long God is going to allow this holocaust to go on in America! And when Christians get so dull in mind and heart that they accept it and vote for a candidate for any office who is pro-choice, I wonder if we haven't gone so far that our consciences are seared.

May God forgive us for standing idly on the sidelines and allowing such an awful thing to continue year after year! If someone began methodically to kill all the elderly people in the country, a million and a half a year, surely, surely someone would do something about it immediately! Surely the American people would not let the government continue such a slaughter! Yet we continue to allow the slaughter of unborn babies by electing people to the House and Senate (and now it looks like to the Presidency), people who are for such massive slaughter of the most helpless group of people in our society—unborn babies.

Is America Headed the Way of Rome?

In an earlier day when most men in America believed that God had spoken through the Book, we justly were called a Christian nation. But now, when higher education is almost completely dedicated to infidelity, when atheism is rife upon our campuses, when a disquieting proportion of our pulpits are manned by skeptics and our seminaries are stilled with agnostics, it is sheer effrontery to use that term any longer. . . .

The day seems passed when political leaders stood upon Christian principles and ignored the clamor of the mob. Nowadays the organized lobby of any special interest can raise enough mob pressure to scare the average politician away from any issue. So much so it seems to the careful observer that we are in danger of drifting to the same deserved fate that overwhelmed Rome, when her great empire followed the same pattern we observe today.

Many of the pastors and teachers who major on prophecy usually concentrate all their attention on the Antichrist who is coming after the rapture. However, there are only four references in the Bible where the word "antichrist or antichrists" are mentioned, and in every reference it talks about the antichrists who are present and active in the world today. Read these four references:

I John 2:18 - Little children, it is the last time; and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

I John 2:22 - Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

I John 4:3 - And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God; and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

II John 1:7 - For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and antichrist.

Seriously note that these four references are the only places in the Bible where the word "antichrist" is used, and these verses tell us that "antichrists" are present in the world right now!

Don't lose sleep and waste time over the Antichrist who is coming after the Rapture. The real and genuine danger is that we are surrounded by antichrists right now, functioning by the spirit of antichrist (I John 4:3). The Apostle Paul issues the same caution in II Thessalonians 2:7, "For the mystery of iniquity doth already work..." As contemporary Christianity takes over the religious realm, we see that the world is coming into the churches in a big way. Over 200 perversions of the Bible are now in print and being used in the place of the King James Bible. Worldly Rock music with the beat, the jump and the jive is taking the place of Godly hymns and songs. Immodesty in dress is everywhere. Homosexual lifestyle is embraced and practiced by church members. The antichrists are present and active right now and the consequences are evident everywhere. The result is that false religion is sending multitudes to hell. Churches are not restraining the antichrists; they are welcoming them.

If we ever needed preachers, churches and true Christians to stand firm and true, we desperately need them now. Don't give in to the liberals and the antichrists today. Tomorrow, there will be no hope for you, your children, grandchildren, or anyone else. The antichrists are here. -copied
